

Mary J. Tanner students thanked Slate Valley Center for their valentines.

Valentines exchanged at Slate Valley Center

A board containing all of the cards stands in the Activities Room at the 88-bed skilled nursing facility.

On Monday, Feb. 13, residents at Slate Valley Center in Granville, New York, exchanged valentines with the third-grade class at Mary J. Tanner School on State Route 22 in Middle Granville.

The facility's residents made enough valentines for each third grader and in turn received their valentines from the kids just in time for Valentine's Day.

"Our residents always love doing things with the kids," said recreation director Andrea Kelley. "Any activities planned all year with students from in and around Granville go really far with our folks. Thank you to all of the third graders at Mary J. Tanner!"

Resident Michael Ross, a Granville resident, loves his valentine.

Patti Coles from South Glens Falls is all smiles.
