Freida Wilson's discharge on Aug. 30 is congratulated by the Slate Valley Center staff.

Ms. Wilson goes home

Slate Valley Center in Granville, New York, congratulated 93-year-old, now former resident, Ms. Freida Wilson who was discharged from the facility on Aug. 30, after she fell at her home. Ms. Wilson, who is from Comstock, sustained a left femur fracture in her neck with surgery that was performed and was toe touch weight bearing when she got to Slate Valley Center on July 9. Prior to coming to Slate Valley Ms. Wilson's fall landed her a brief successful stay at Glens Falls Hospital. Later at Slate Valley Center, she participated in both physical and occupational therapy and she worked hard so she could meet her goal, which was to return home.

wonderful job with Freida and let's not forget that she really incentivized herself as well so she can go back to her normal life and go home," said Slate Valley Center's Director of Rehabilitation Kylie Cavallaro. "The beautiful sendoff that she received as she was leaving the facility really tells the story of what kind of person Freida was...and still is. Even at 93, she knew what she wanted and knew she had to work hard along with our therapists here in order to have such a positive outcome. Freida was a model patient."

Ms. Wilson, a lover of entertainment and country music, has six children, 17 grandkids and two great grandkids, and was so well-loved when she was a resident.

"Our therapists here did such a
